The misadventuring of many road productions has resulted in the inability of the public on frequent occasions to distinguish between the meritorious and the inferior attraction. To dispel any doubts as to the merits of "Robin Hood," described as the nation's funniest and most successful comic opera, which is to be presented tonight at the Orpheum, it is announced in a signed statement by Manager Goss of the Orpheum theater, that the admission price will be refunded to any patrons of the theater who are dissatisfied with the production, or who can dispute any of the claims made for this attraction.

Manager Goss's guarantee is as follows: "I personally guarantee the De Koven Opera company's production of 'Robin Hood' to be the finest comic opera organization that has ever played in this city. I will cheerfully refund their money to any of my patrons who, upon witnessing the performance, can dispute this statement. (Signed) 'J. F. GOSS.' Advertisement.

WM. BAILEY DIES AT NORTH OGDEN

Saturday evening, another of the pioneers of North Ogden, William Bailey, passed from this life. He is a son of John Bailey and Lydia Williams Bailey, and was born in Wales, January 9, 1841, and had, therefore, passed his 75th birthday.

He embraced the gospel of "Mormonism" in his native town of Blackwood in South Wales, and was baptized when eight years of age by Wm. Thomas, and was only 13 when he emigrated with his parents to Utah.

March 2, 1863, he was married to Mary Elizabeth Montgomery, and as the fruits of the union there have been 10 children, 32 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren, nearly all of whom are living and residing in this country. The children are John M., Mary P. Warren, Hyrum S., James Alma, Joseph T., Lydia Grace, Nathaniel and Celestia of North Ogden, and William and Robert W. of Liberty, all living except Celestia, who died June 15, 1904.

The years of his early manhood were passed in freighting from Utah to the mining districts of the north and west. He later engaged in railroad and other contract work and was in that noted camp on the Portneut when his camps were almost depopulated with the ravages of smallpox, including the death of several friends from his home town.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m., in the North Ogden meeting house.

Card of Thanks

The family and relatives of Clarence F. Heath wish to express their thanks to the kind friends and neighbors who were so kind and loving during the illness and death of their loved one.

CANNERY IS TO PLACE NEW COOKING MACHINERY

New cooking equipment, which will increase about 400 per cent the efficiency in that department of the Utah Canning company, will be installed this year in the large Ogden cannery, having been purchased by Secretary Herbert L. Herrington while in the east during the past month.

The new "Wonder Cookers" are so arranged that there will be no handling of the cans from the time that they drop into the chute near the filling machines until they are ready for storage. This, in connection with the new peeling equipment installed last summer, does away with an immense amount of manual labor, as well as assuring absolute uniformity of the products, both as to preparation and cooking.

Jewel From Famous Tower of Jewels

A jewel from the famous "Tower of Jewels" at the Panama-Pacific exposition was viewed with interest by specially invited visitors at the local uptown ticket office of the Southern Pacific railroad. It will be kept at the office several days. The souvenir is highly prized by the owner, Mrs. M. D. Shortz, wife of Commercial Agent Shortz of the Southern Pacific in this district, having been presented by her father, J. L. Robinson of Salt Lake City.

Mr. Robinson recently returned from San Francisco and was one of the favored souvenir hunters to secure a jewel that was a part one of the most brilliant illuminating systems ever conceived.

The jewel is one and one-half inches in diameter, green in color, circular in form and a small mirror at its back forms the secret of its radiating powers. It is suspended from a specially made brass stand, to which is also attached a brass check on which is stamped the following inscription as proof of its validity: "Certified by W. Darcy Ryan, chief of illumination, P. O. I. E."

The jewels were hand cut by natives of Australia and exported to the United States, several tons being used to complete the illuminating scheme of the big exposition buildings.
